Join the Mural Project!

See your own mural design painted on the wall on the Edgewood Community Center!

This is a contest.

We are looking for 4 uplifting, powerful, inspiring mural designs that express this very moment in space and time! Submit a fully realized mural design: Draw it out in color, or submit a black and white design and let the painters choose the colors, and enter it in the contest. Your design could be chosen to be painted on one of four wall panels overlooking the skate park at the Edgewood Community Center. The contest winners also get a scholarship to the Summer Arts Camp during which the murals will be painted.

You rock, get it on paper and submit by June 30th. Designs will be voted on by members of the Route 66 Arts Alliance. If you have questions, write to Route66ArtsAlliance@gmail.com

To submit your entry:

email an image to Route66ArtsAlliance@gmail.com by June 30th and award further instructions. Please include your name and contact info.

Themes: You are not limited to a theme but here are some things we are looking for:
Don't Drink & Drive, We Love You Alive,
Take Good Care of Your Only Earth,
Our Best Future, Our Best Now

History Rocks

All People Are Amazing
Love Makes the World Go Round

We are looking for mural designs that are positive and uplifting, meaning they make the viewer feel good and feel like doing good things, or they make the viewer proud to be part of this community.

Join us in the Summer Arts Camp to paint the winning designs on the walls. The Summer Arts Camp is a new program of the Route 66 Arts Alliance. Painting, Music, Theater. Five days of art workshops for only $25 per student, all materials included.

August 1st-5th, 2016

Information available by emailing Route66ArtsAlliance@gmail.com.
More information to be posted soon on the website.
Register by July 15th
